To Whom It May Concern

For the last 6 ½ years, I have learned more from Daniel Seay about my Online Presence, and how to make it better, than from any other source. Daniel's consulting has helped me learn a great deal about what is going on Online in my business and what I need to be doing in the Online Marketplace to improve it, more so than from any other resource. His in depth reports have helped analyze my website, its contents, my keywords and my collective strategies, plus his insights have helped to shape my decisions for how I should approach my strategies going forward. I have found Daniel to be a wealth of information, a straight shooter in presenting "the facts" (not the hype), and a valuable asset in moving my business forward.

I would recommend to anyone considering improving their Online Presence to let Daniel Seay and his staff help you hone in on your Online challenges and to consider their studied recommendations as your solutions. You will learn a lot in the process, you will improve your Online Presence, and you will stop wasting money on other services or vendors that do not work. You can trust Daniel Seay and his staff to steer you in the right direction.

Sincerely,

Michael J. Joshi
